5/17/2024	8:37 PM	23318	1970	S Joshua Tree Pl	Loud music and loud voices going on for at least half an hour. They're out in the backyard , if someone rings the doorbell they might not hear and need to go around the back.	Fred Lavey	CODE	8:50 PM	I confirmed the property is currently suspended through 6/25/24. Upon arrival, I did not witness any music violations but the property appeared occupied. The PD dispatch center confirmed the vehicles were rented status from Arizona. I contacted the occupants at the front door and asked how they were associated with the property. One of the occupants stated they rented the property directly through the owners, not through an online booking platform. The occupants were unable to provide a booking itinerary or any documentation regarding their stay at the property. I will investigate the property further and attempt to secure a booking inquiry through Airbnb to confirm the property is operating without a vacation rental certificate. I did not call the local contact due to the continued investigation of the property. The reporting party did not leave any callback information.

Upon my arrival, I conducted a thorough inspection and found no violations. I documented my observations with photographs. Additionally, I contacted the local property management group Vacation Palm Springs to address the complaint. I heard music coming from the reported property. I attempted to call the local contact to confirm if the property was rented short-term for the weekend, but I was unable to reach the contact listed. Due to the music observed at the property, I knocked on the door to contact the occupants. I was greeted at the door by an occupant who identified herself as the owner of the property. I asked for verification, and she provided her name and California ID which matched the name I had as the registered owner. After confirming her identity, I called and informed the reporting party that the property was not rented as a short-term rental and is being occupied by the owner.	YES
